WD Activity Based Learning

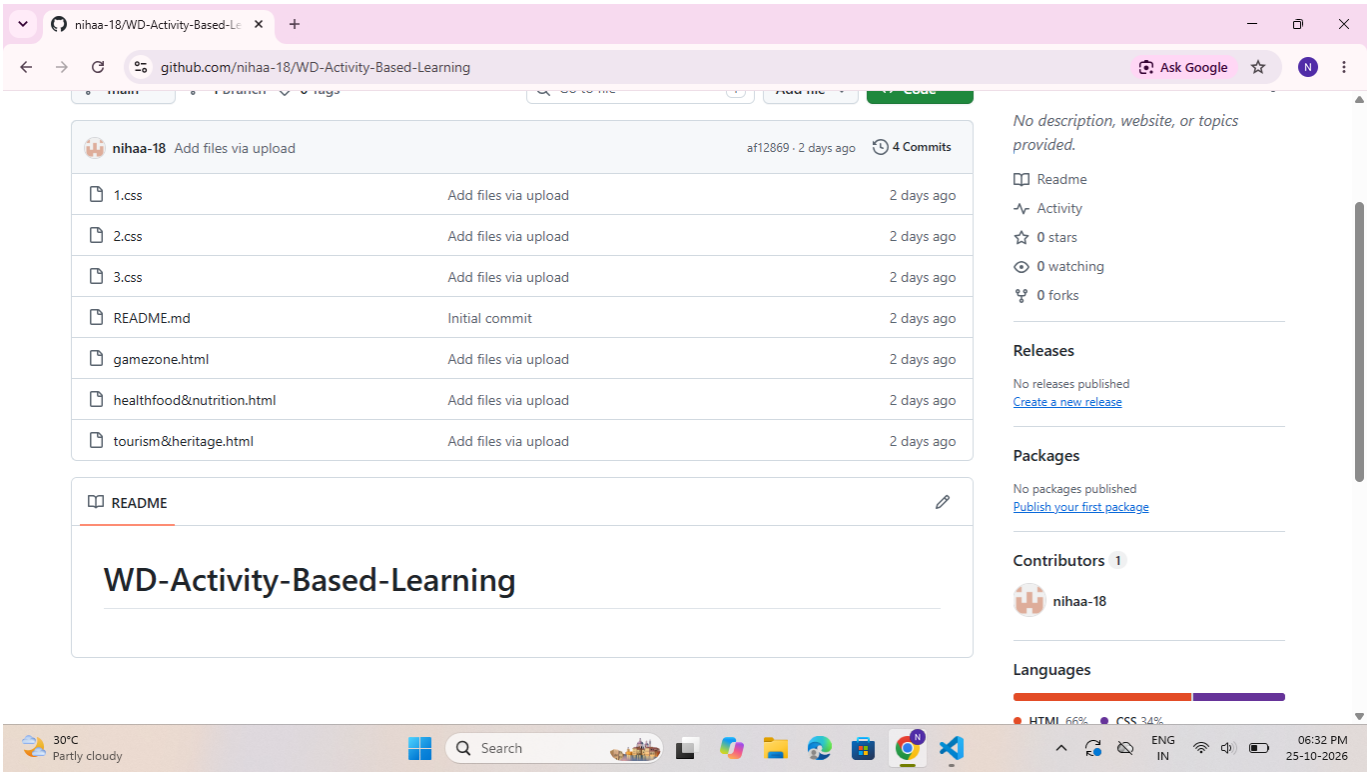

Consolidated Web Development Project Report

This report brings together the submitted repository overview and screenshots of three beginner-friendly HTML/CSS web pages: GameZone, Explore India, and Healthy Food & Nutrition.

Prepared from the screenshots provided

1. GitHub Repository Overview

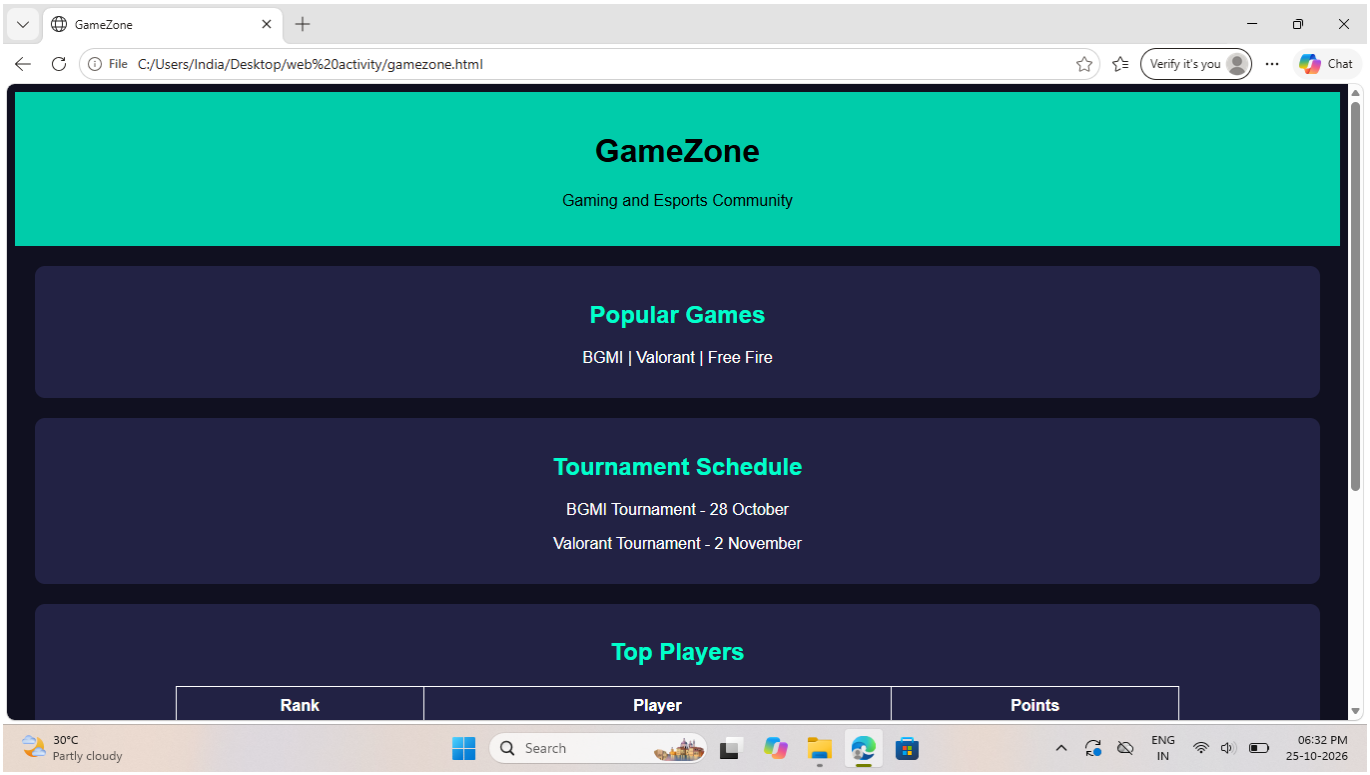

The repository page shows the WD-Activity-Based-Learning project and its uploaded files, including CSS files, a README, and the HTML pages for GameZone, Healthy Food & Nutrition, and Tourism & Heritage.

Screenshot 1 of 6

2. GameZone — Gaming and Esports Community

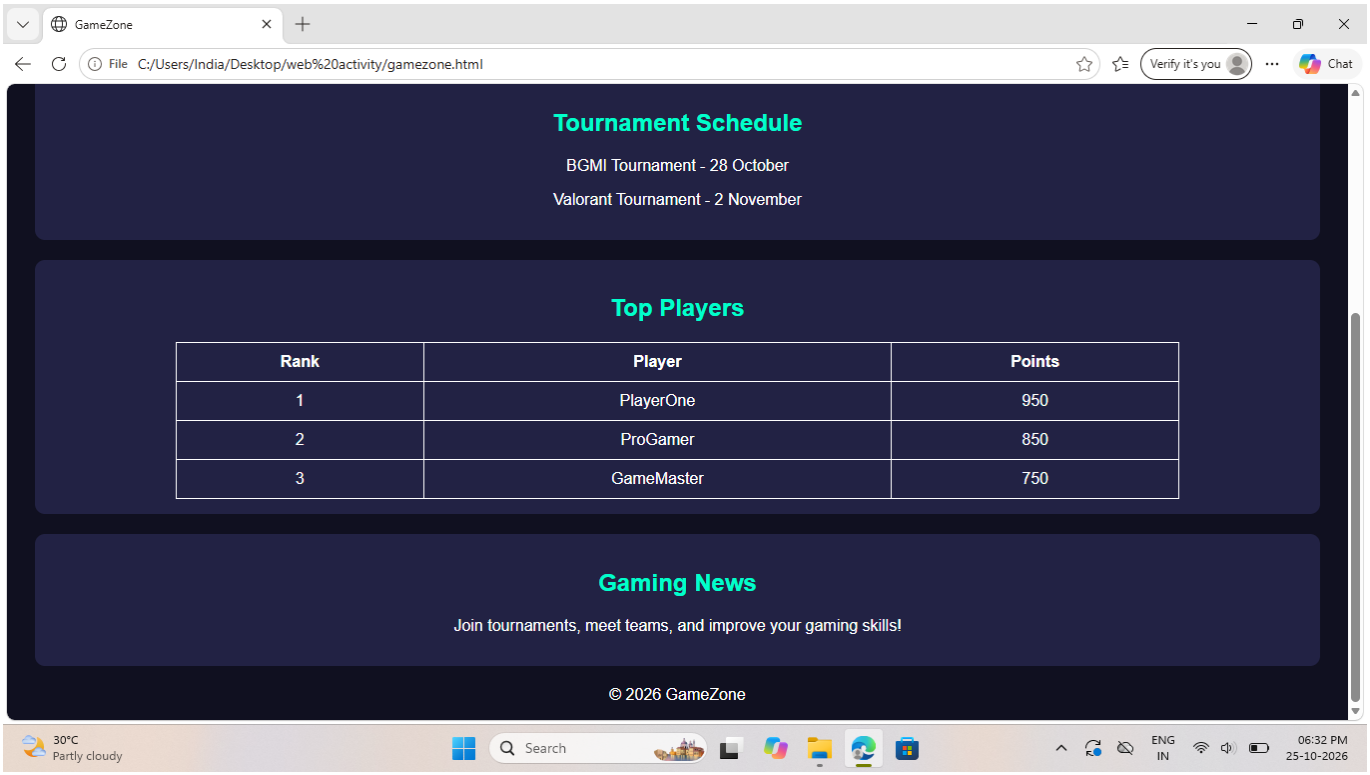

The GameZone page uses a dark background with teal highlights. It includes popular games, a tournament schedule, a top-players table with ranks and points, gaming news, and a footer.

Screenshot 2 of 6

3. GameZone — Top Players and Gaming News

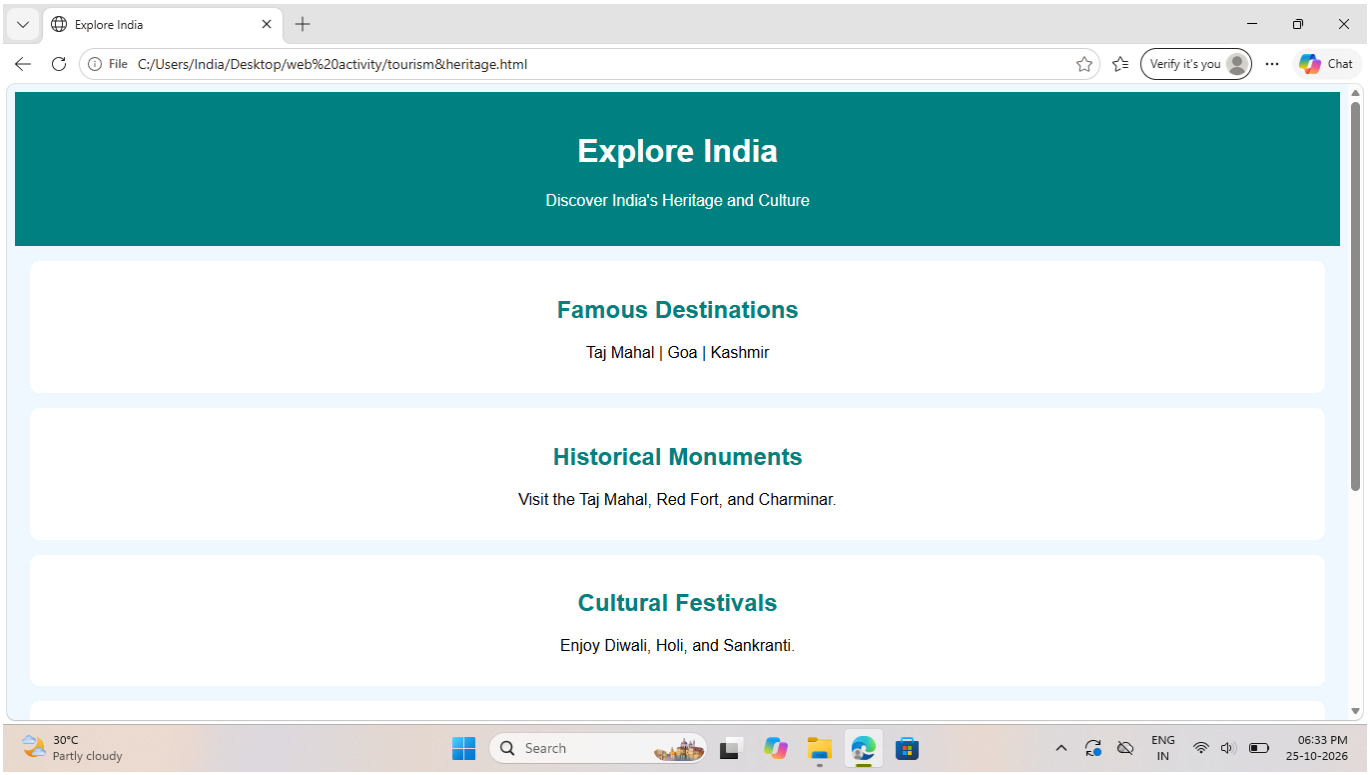

The second GameZone screenshot captures the lower part of the page, including the top-player ranking table, gaming news section, and the copyright footer.

Screenshot 3 of 6

4. Explore India — Heritage and Culture

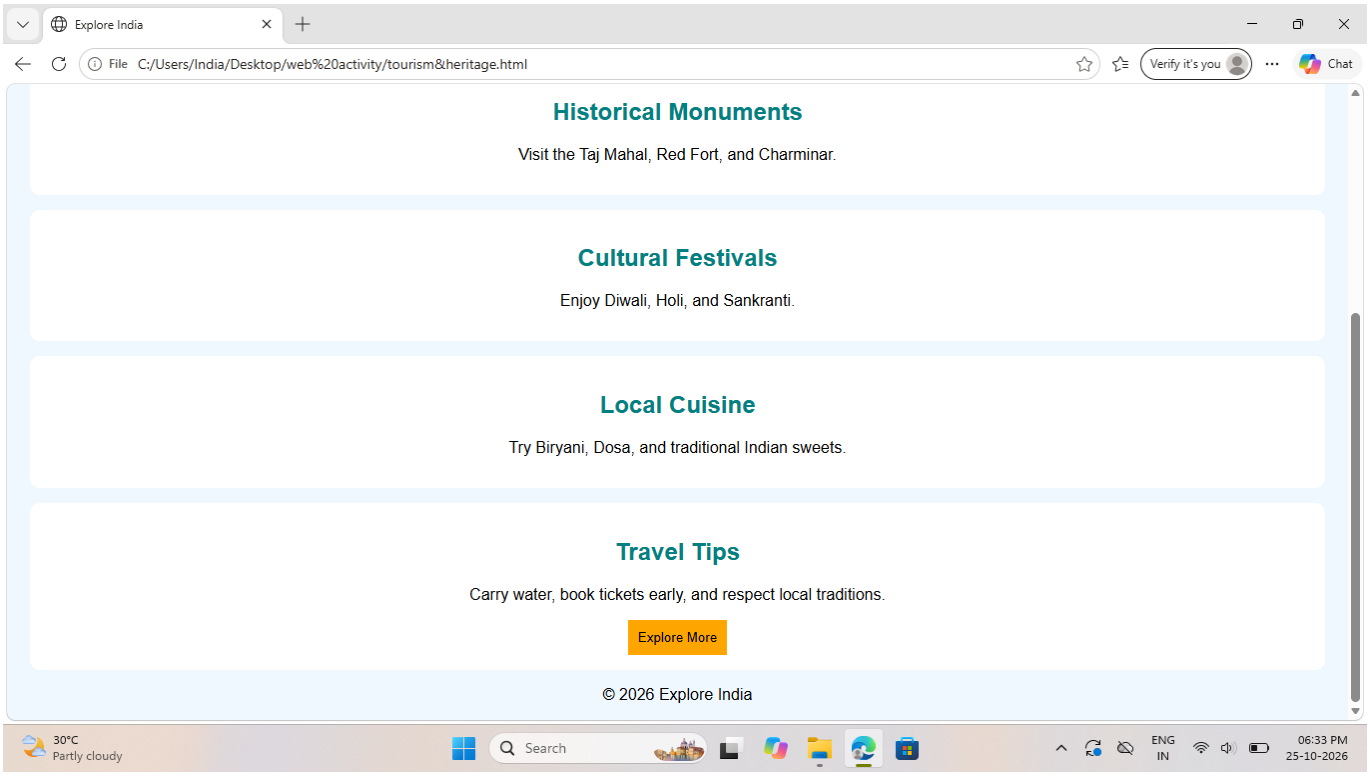

The Explore India page presents famous destinations, historical monuments, cultural festivals, local cuisine, and travel tips, with a prominent header and an Explore More button.

Screenshot 4 of 6

5. Explore India — Lower Page Sections

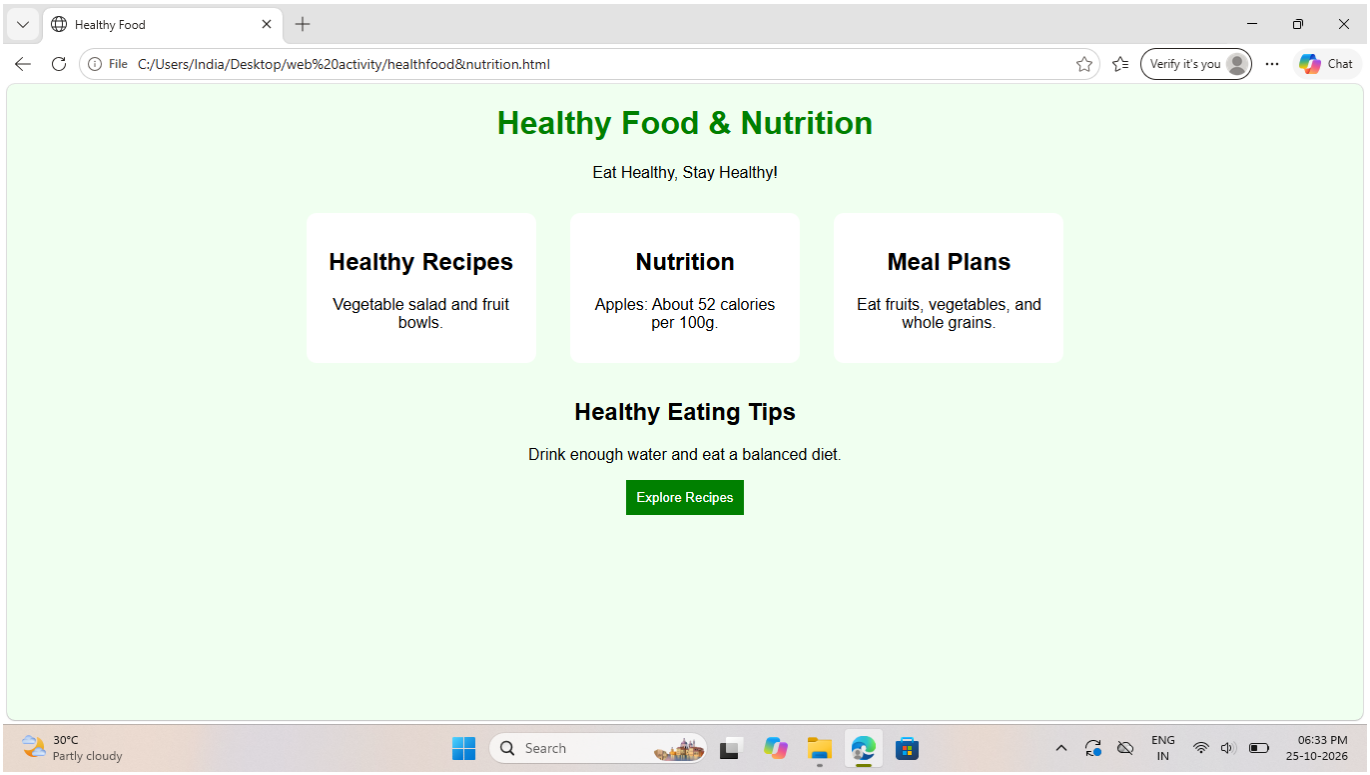

The second Explore India screenshot shows the historical monuments, cultural festivals, local cuisine, and travel tips sections, followed by the page footer.

Screenshot 5 of 6

6. Healthy Food & Nutrition

The Healthy Food & Nutrition page uses a light green background and contains healthy recipes, nutrition information, meal plans, healthy eating tips, and an Explore Recipes button.

Screenshot 6 of 6